Who owns the content and how it may be shared

© 2026 The Public Safety Consulting Group. All rights reserved.

The EMS Leadership Podcast, including all episodes, audio, video, transcripts, show notes, artwork and graphics, is owned by The Public Safety Consulting Group (PSCG) and protected by copyright and other intellectual property laws. Guests keep ownership of their own pre-existing materials. The PSCG name, the EMS Leadership Podcast name and the PSCG logos are brand identifiers of PSCG and may not be used in a way that suggests endorsement without written permission.

What you may do

- Share links to episodes and to the podcast page.
- Embed episodes using the official players provided by YouTube or podcast platforms.
- Quote short excerpts for commentary, news reporting, teaching or review, with credit: "EMS Leadership Podcast, The Public Safety Consulting Group," and a link to thepscgroup.net/podcasts.
- Guests may share the official episode links, clips and graphics PSCG provides, and may post them on their own and their organization's channels with credit.
- Play an episode in full for an internal, non-commercial training session at your agency, without editing it, with credit.

What needs written permission

- Downloading and re-uploading episodes or clips to another channel or platform.
- Editing, remixing, re-cutting, dubbing or translating episodes.
- Using episodes, clips or the PSCG name or logos in advertising, sales or paid training.
- Using episode content, voices or likenesses to train, fine-tune or generate output from artificial intelligence or machine learning systems.
- Using any part of the podcast in a way that implies PSCG endorses a product, service, candidate or position.

Requesting permission

Email info@thepscgroup.net with your name, organization, the episode and time stamps you want to use, how and where it will be used, and for how long. Approved uses may require specific credit wording and a link back.

Third-party material

Episodes may reference materials owned by others, such as studies, logos or images. Those rights remain with their owners. If you believe material in the podcast infringes your rights, email info@thepscgroup.net with the episode, the material, your contact information and the basis for your claim. We will review and respond promptly.
